

CHCD 2018

The 5th International Symposium
on Conservation and Digitization
(CHCD2018)

Re-member:
Heritage-driven
Economy

September 12-16, 2018

Tsinghua University, Beijing, China

An Integrated International Platform Connecting Academia to the Industry

You can enjoy the following during the symposium:

- About 100 participating organizations including government agencies for heritage administration, museums, archaeological and research institutes, universities, technical corporations, NGOs, and industrial enterprises.
- More than 200 international experts and professionals engaged in academic, technological, and business-related dialog from both a macro and micro perspective.
- Special exhibitions of national heritage display for global dissemination, including Chinese, Dutch, German, and Italian exhibition areas.
- Keynote speeches by expert representatives from ICOMOS, CIPA, ISPRS, Getty Research Institute, CyArk and other NGOs.
- Leading research institutes and universities including the Beijing Palace Museum, Dunhuang Academy China, Max Planck Institute, Solomon R. Guggenheim Foundation and Museum, Yungang Grottoes Research Institute, and University of California in Berkeley (USA), Tsinghua University (China), Peking University (China), the National Technical University of Athens (Greece), Carleton University in Ottawa (Canada), Curtin University in Perth (Australia), Fudan University in Shanghai (China), and Tongji University (China).